CARE & CLEANING

Regular cleaning is crucial to prevent the accumulation of dirt and contaminants, which can lead to permanent stains. The frequency of cleaning should be adjusted based on the specific environmental conditions the material is exposed to.

For routine maintenance, warm, soapy water and clear water rinses are effective in removing most common stains. A moderate scrub with a medium bristle brush can aid in dislodging soiling materials from textured surfaces.

For tougher stains, consider using a commercially available mild detergent like Formula 409®, following the manufacturer's instructions.

It's important to note that detergent should not be used routinely for standard cleaning. After any cleaning procedure, Miami recommends thorough rinsing with clear water.

Exercise caution when using solvents, as they are flammable. Utilize small amounts and keep away from sources of ignition. Protective gloves should be worn, and safety precautions should be followed at all times.

Before widespread use, it's wise to test any new cleaner in an inconspicuous area, as manufacturers may alter their formulas without notice.

Miami cannot be held responsible for changes made by manufacturers to their cleaning products.
